No Extension of Term Of Legislature Will be Agreed To by Liberals

Overtures of Opposition Leader Michelet and His Followers Are Unlike to Bear Fruit—Liberals are Desirous of Election in Ordinary Course Rather Than One or Two-Year War Extension—Present Term Will Expire in April Next

The overtures that have been made by the members of the opposition with regard to an extension of the Alberta legislative session until April are unlikely to bear fruit. In other words, this is probably the last session of the present legislature.

While it has been rumored for some time around the legislative corridors that the government would make some arrangement providing for an extension of the five-year term—for one year only, if the government and liberal members would agree to this, the opposition leader, Mr. Michelet, has said nothing of the kind, apparently, to avoid an appeal to the electors.

In addition, the Liberal party will not agree to the proposition on any account, and therefore the ministerial business which has been dragging somewhat since the election of the new opposition leader, Mr. Michelet, who had rather expected a political truce, will now go on as usual.

HILLOCKS CONTINUES SPEECH IN LEGISLATURE, NOT YET TIRING

Continuing From Tuesday Afternoon He Is Only Speaker in Debate
Yesterday—Deals With Number of Questions and Will Have Considerable More to Say When House Meets Today

Still speaking when the legislature adjourned last evening, R. Bacon Hilllocks, the member for Calgary North, said he had no objection to the adjournment and there's more to follow. With the exception of the few questions concerning the question he had had the floor principally discussing the history of the old documents help, and while he was in favour of the bill all parties should unite in consistently pushing the federal government and all others in the country for the resources or their equivalent in cash.

After the adjournment he was speaking upon the value of coal roads when the time for adjournment came. He said that in regard with taxation he asserted that the entire amount of money raised in regard to hospitals and schools and was pointing to the taxes the government had imposed on the people. He minded him of Hon. C. H. Mitchell, the previous minister of finance, who was assessed $2,000,000 per annum by a special war tax.

Opposition History.—Mr. Michelet, continuing his speech, said that the reason, asked why Premier Sir Frank M. Hinckley had not called the legislature, was that the Dominion government, consisting of the Conservative and Liberal governments, should have been put in power by the election of the Conservatives. He asserted that the relevance of the question was that the war was for political effect.

He said: "I am not saying that I don't know where I would get the money, but I do know where I would not get it."

Mr. Hilllocks said he was informed that the government was consistently hammering the federal government.

Applied to Presterion Board.—Premier Hinckley said he was informed that the government had applied to the Presterion board for a loan of $100,000,000.

Mr. Hilllocks, continuing his speech, said that the government had been asked why Sir Frank Hinckley had not called the legislature, and that he was quite willing they should be told.

He said: "Yes, I think I should answer them now? Well, it's my opinion, Premier Hinckley, well, I mean, Mr. Hinckley, that he is not fit to be the head of this legislature."

He said: "I think that it should be referred to in the speech from the throne that he is not fit to be the head of this legislature. I would rather see it in a federal campaign. We must have a federal campaign to meet the needs of the country."

Both on same side.—He said: "Both he is on the same side."

"What?" he answered. "I mean for Calgary North, who while admitting Sir Frank Hinckley was not fit to be the head of the Western provinces, getting him to call the legislature, I think he should be handed over as one would the key to a vice-regal seal."

Mr. Hilllocks replied that it would be from the same side, inasmuch as both sides to come in bringing home the national budget, and that he was in full agreement with the speaker.

This finished the member's dissertation upon the natural resources leave.

But when he informed the house of this, he left the floor, and went through the speech from the throne, and then returned to the floor, and stretched themselves and composed themselves, and then they knew what was coming.

The speaker said: "The North did not think that perhaps he was pre-arranging his return, and with the off-hand comment, "with the exception of the few questions concerning the outbreak of the war," he was more or less indicating his desire to have his name mentioned in the speech from the throne.

Mr. Hilllocks replied that it would be from the same side, inasmuch as both sides to come in bringing home the national budget, and that he was in full agreement with the speaker.

Subject of Taxation.—The subject of taxation next came under review, and the speaker said: "The first of the cities when he was challenged by the speaker was the question of whether the speaker had any provision in regard to the taxation of the people."

Mr. Hilllocks said he was referring to when he was in the West Indies, and the theatre tax.

Mr. Michelet said that that point was settled in the matter of polices, who were to collect the tax, and that the speaker had any provision in regard to it.

Peace River Farm is Sold at Splendid Figure; H. L. Propst's Half-Section Brings $12,500

Approximately Forty Dollars Per Acre For Land Fifty Miles From a Railway—One of the Best Farms in the Famous Peace River District

Bulletin Correspondence.

Peace River, Feb. 29—One of the most important deals in land ever consummated in the Peace River country took place last week, when a half-section of land, situated in the Peace River valley at Van Reeuw, was sold by H. L. Propst to Albert Egerle, of Idaho. The price paid was $12,500 cash, or approximately $49 per acre.

Mr. Propst came to the Peace River country two years ago, and has since been a resident there. Any miles west of Peace River, he built a large two-story house, and stock buildings, and made most of his living from the sale of grain and stock buildings, and most of the time he was one of the best farmers throughout the country, and was able to sell his grain at a profit, and his stock at a good price.

He danned a creek, creating three ponds, and used the water for irrigation purposes, and for water. Use your ground for cattle and horses, and you will have a fine farm from the house on a well.

When a few months ago, a settler of this country said that his quarry was exhausted, he turned down his claim, and started for Alberta, launched at the life of a tramp, and was unable to find work, and said that it would be a long time before he could get back to the land in the Peace River Country. This sale will serve to show how wealthy the people of the Peace River north have opportunity to invest.

BIG INDUSTRIAL SURVEY STARTS WITH WHOLESALE HOUSES IN BUSINESS HERE

Board of Trade Committee Co-operates With Dr. Miller—School Teachers Also Take a Hand—Re-education of Soldiers is Urgent Need—Get Engineers Greatly in Demand

The industrial and educational survey which is now being undertaken in this province, largely in connection with the re-education of soldiers, will, it is believed, have made a very satisfactory beginning in Edmonton, and when completed it is expected that some very interesting and valuable data will be obtained.

At a meeting at noon, the advisory committee on the survey, consisting of the Board of Trade and Dr. J. R. Miller, the head of the Department of Education, and Mr. G. R. Dolan, vice-president of the Canadian Association of the Survey, and C. W. Langford, a returned veteran of the First World War, were present in the section. The meeting was to receive a report from Mr. Langford on the progress of the survey in the city and to decide steps for the development of the survey in Edmonton.

Mr. Langford, during the past week, with the co-operation of F. T. Fisher, director of vocational training, has completed a massive list of the 147 wholesale houses in business here in this city. The forms prepared for the wholesale branch of the survey have been sent to all the heads of the departments, but the rural districts are not concerned in the survey. Returns have been finished and that of the survey is now complete.

It is the intention to make a survey of the schools in the two cities mentioned without waiting for the completion of the survey in the rural districts. Much significant and valuable information will be obtained.

Soldiers Training Board

As district vocational officer, Dr. Miller, who is in charge of the Returned Soldiers Training Board, yesterday addressed the former members of the Canadian Expeditionary Force here. Hon. C. W. Fisher, speaker of the legislature, Hospital Committee in the chair. Recommendations in the interest of the veterans were made, and in cooperation with the managers, committees and trustees of the various farms and in detail the question of re-education will be taken up by each firm.

The survey will be conducted by the surveyor, Mr. Langford, and in each case a visit will be made to each firm to determine what steps may arise with regard to the survey.

VETERANS OF WAR RETURN TO EDMONTON

Party of Twelve Come in By Afternoon and Evening Trains Yesterday

A dozen more enlisted veterans reached the gates of the home front, which ran from the other side of the Atlantic to Edmonton, yesterday afternoon. They numbered 11, and to nine of them arrived on the 8 o'clock evening train from the south. This morning they came in by the 9:30 a.m. mail train, and to the remaining five per cent as compared with the summary of a statement issued by G. E. Bell, district freight agent, of the Canadian Northern's Edmonton Bureau, of their departure from Calgary going astray, the company said.

With the exception of the fact that one was able to get a ride in a truck, the others had to walk, and those who used to be soldiers were or where engaged in some occupation attempting to make do there.

They came in by the 8 o'clock train and came to town with the enthusiasm of their welcome. No one could have been more pleased than the bureau and the Returned Soldiers' Association on hand but the veterans themselves. Some were there also. When the khaki cars they were swallowed up in a battalion of feminine relatives and friends, who had come to meet them, was born like the crackle of rifle fire in the winter sky.

The soldiers were:

Sgt. H. G. McLean, married, married to Mrs. McLean, and the son of the McLean Engineering Co., A. E. McLean, president of the Trust Co. and J. C. Sherry.

The general idea of the meeting was that the committee planned its active co-operation in the taking of the survey, and the finding of work which will include the men.

At the meeting yesterday Dr. Miller stated that the survey would be disclosed, and this will lead to the development of a plan in the general plan of schools which will be of great benefit. These modifications might go far to meet the needs of present studies or might be taken in night school.

Military School Work

Still other information will be referred to the men and their families in the business and the relationship of the survey to the war.

At the meeting yesterday Dr. Miller stated that the survey would be disclosed, and this will lead to the development of a plan in the general plan of schools which will be of great benefit. These modifications might go far to meet the needs of present studies or might be taken in night school.

Meeting of School Teachers

Yesterday the teachers also held, through the good offices of W. C. Carpenter, superintendent of schools, a meeting to discuss the three high schools and of the principals of the three secondary schools.

There were 40 present. Dr. Miller and Mr. Dolan made a presentation of industrial and commercial training and its relation to the education and re-education and re-training of returned soldiers and returning students of secondary education.

In view of the fact that a number of secondary school teachers will assist in the survey, the teachers of the three high schools and of the principals of the three secondary schools were present.

The "covert act" is delayed no longer because of lack of will, but of opportunity. United States' vessels have not been sunk because United States vessels do not go to sea.

It seems curiously contradictory that while the United States was the only neutral to break off relations with Germany on the outbreak of unrestricted submarine warfare. United States ships are the only neutral vessels that have stopped running on account of it.

A Conservative exchange thinks it is time the British Admiralty sent some cruisers to protect the British Columbia coast. Perhaps the Admiralty think a country which does so much talking about its loyalty ought to protect its own coast.

British people have subscribed a thousand million dollars to the war loan, but the British proposes to regard John Ball as a particularly self-seeking individual, at that ought to persuade John Ball to see this thing through.

Another judge has unearthed some more of the rascality of the late Roblin Government. The effect is to confirm the view that the contract-juggery in which Hon. Robert Ross engaged was not an isolated instance of unfaithfulness to public trust, but only an incident in a comprehensive policy of graft and corruption engineered by a few gentleman with the purpose of keeping him and his colleagues in power. The amount known to have been stolen from the people of Manitoba by, through, and on account of, Mr. Rogers, is a trifle in comparison to the amount known to have been extracted from the Dominion treasury without value given during his reign as minister of the post and telegraph department. Is the exploitation of the Dominion treasury under Mr. Rogers' auspices directed to the same purpose as the exploitation of the Manitoba treasury under the same auspices?

British Columbia's Government and people seem to have given up hope of finding out how the soldiers overseas voted on the proposed legislation and propose now to adopt prohibitory legislation during the war, a plebiscite to be taken as to whether the soldiers shall be re-enlisted. There could hardly be more convincing proof of the futility of trying to take a vote of the men at the front without putting the whole conduct of the overseas election in the hands of the politicians. There are too much room between the trenches and Canada for monkeying with the ballot boxes and the returns to allow of a fair test of the soldiers' opinion because they would be compelled to cast their votes in the absence of the polling booth. If the soldiers are entitled to vote they are also entitled to make the arrangements for taking the vote, and to select the officials charged with voting. That is what the Alberta Government proposes to let the men from this province do when provincial elections are held.

Briefly stated, Mr. Roosevelt's position is that if the United States goes to war with Germany he will raise a brigade; if it doesn't he will go on raising Cain.

Washington has declared, perhaps in better phraseology than ever clothed the idea before, the simple right of neutral ships to transact their business with wilful molestation. But American ships are tied up at docks piled mountain high with freight for Europe, and making no move whatever to redress the wrongs of those right ship owners upon their voyages. The American type writer backed by the will to peace is in my protection against the German typewriter backed by the will to war.

A correspondent says he came from Minnesota and studied in the St. Paul office and district in the course of Canadian immigration literature which represented the railway from Oliver to St. Paul as already built. If the immigration railway is built, he says, it is of that kind that it should step forth within the interests of common honesty, of fairness to the protective settler, and of the country itself above all. It is through that kind that the Dominion Government should block the construction of the railway, without trying to induce settlers to go into the district on the misrepresentation that the railway has been built.

The Dominion Government has undertaken to contribute dollars for dollar whatever the Provincial Government may contribute toward the support of technical schools. The city of Edmonton is to receive a grant of $10,000, and each school, under central direction, and which costs something like thirty thousand dollars per year. This school is to be entirely adapted for use in training engineers, teachers, in technical work, and the Dominion Government has promised to assist our returned men in acquiring such training. There seem to be many opportunities for a profitable and satisfactory cooperation between the city, the Province and the Dominion in support of an institution already existing, and capable of extension and adaptation to the purpose to which the Dominion stands pledged.

It is not apparent why the people of a city should be refused proportionate assistance from the Provincial treasury toward the support of their public schools as is given to rural districts. The well-organized and prosperous communities, if city school boards see fit to erect finer buildings than country districts, or to have taught in the former, can not be faulted in this respect. It is fair that the extra cost should be borne by the taxpayers who authorize the extra expenditure and who clearly gain the benefit of it.

But the people of the city, not on the average as well able to support schools as the farmers in a fertile and well-cultivated district, and yet they should be required to contribute toward the cost of providing their children with school facilities; is by no means clear.

Right to Marry.

To the Bulletin Legal Department: I was married a second time in 1914, after the death of my first wife, my three children. I was therefore forced to leave my home and go to a farm, where I have made a living for myself and my children. I have never heard from my husband, who was in another province, or from my children. I am now married to another man, and I have one child. I have the right to get a divorce, but I don't know what to do next. — E. J. C. C.

We would suggest that you write to the appropriate legal authority in the town where your husband is last known to have resided.

I was therefore forced to leave my home and go to a farm, where I have made a living for myself and my children. I have never heard from my husband, who was in another province, or from my children. I am now married to another man, and I have one child. I have the right to get a divorce, but I don't know what to do next. — E. J. C. C.

Injured Right Leg in Recent Match—Discusses the Oatman Case

VANCOUVER, Feb. 22.—In Vancouver, which is now a pretty slight possibility, it will be without the services of the most brilliant referee on the scale. Upon his arrival here from Portland, Patrick announced that it was impossible for him to play again this season. In the game he had to leave the ice because of a severe torn ligament in the right leg and although badly crippled he played again.

That the Oatman case will not lead to a break between the eastern and western hockey leagues is what the men in charge say.

Any intimation that such action would take place was indicated today by Fredrick P. Oatman, president of the Vancouver Players. Oatman Rossbaum, of New York, won the national indoor tennis doubles championship at the American Indoor Tennis Club, New York, and Clifton B. Herd, of Atlanta, Ga., the men's singles.

Howard Yoshall, Brooklyn, won the championship today by defeating Clifton B. Herd, of Atlanta, in the final on the court of the seventh regiment here. Score: 7-5, 6-3, 6-2.

YANKEES HAVE EASY WIN.

WINNIPEG, Feb. 22.—In an exhibition hockey game here tonight a team of All Stars chosen from the Montreal and Quebec teams easily defeated the Victorias, champions last year, 14 to 5.

The team, which believes that the players who secured Oatman's services, and the McNamee brothers, are to blame for his having been injured, is not impressed by that, and it held to account for the part they played in the body.
